Dumber and Plumber: Leftism as Suicide-Cult for Whites and Self-Service Racket for Non-Whites

TOBIAS LANGDON • APRIL 12, 2026 • 2,000 WORDS • 10 COMMENTS

Dumb and Dumber is an American movie about a pair of idiots who create chaos and disaster. Teletubbies is a British children's program about a group of brightly dressed humanoids who emote rather than articulate. I've never seen either the movie or the program, but over the years I've learned what they're about and what the characters look like. That's why I thought of them both when I saw a proud female plumber win a by-election for the Green Party in the heavily enriched English city of Manchester.

The dumber plumber: Hannah Spencer and some Teletubbies (images from Wikipedia)

The plumber is called Hannah Spencer. She dresses brightly, emotes rather than articulates, and is determinedly d-u-m-b. Her dumbness is part of why she emotes rather than articulates. That is, she doesn't base her politics on reason and reality, but on her own feelings and on the insatiable greed she shares with so many other leftists. It's the greed to feed her narcissism. You'd know she's a narcissist even before you knew her politics. There's not just the bright clothing but the long blonde hair too. And there's an irony there in her hair.

Here's some of Hannah Spencer's dumb emoting about the mud-flood and non-Whites preying on Whites: "We're all human, but some people have been exposed to a lot of misinformation and it's making them really angry." For Spencer, the truth about non-White pathologies is "misinformation." Yes, we are all human, but we're not all human in the same way. And humans compete with each other in all manner of ways. For example, has Hannah Spencer ever asked herself why White women like her have hair and eyes of many different and attention-grabbing colors, while non-White women don't?

Icy prehistoric Europe

It's a very interesting question, after all, and the answer says a lot about the very different evolutionary paths followed by White women, on the one hand, and non-White women, on the other. But those differences explain why Hannah Spencer will never have pondered the question. Curiosity about H.B.D. – human bio-diversity – is taboo on the left. Leftists don't ask the questions because they don't like the answers. Although Spencer will flaunt her long blonde locks, she will never have asked herself why she has them or about the possible implications they have for her narcissistic, reality-denying politics. Essentially, the much wider variety of hair-color in White women arose from sexual competition. As the anthropologist Peter Frost has explained, there was a surplus of women in icy prehistoric Europe competing for the attention of men who were dying at higher rates on long, dangerous hunts. That's why the women evolved attention-grabbing hair and eyes. Much though feminists would hate to admit it, this is yet another example of how women's bodies have literally been formed by the male gaze and male preferences.

But it isn't just hair- and eye-color that differs between Whites and non-Whites thanks to the distinct environments we've evolved in. Our psychology is different too: Whites are more individualistic, non-Whites like Pakistani Muslims more collectivist. Here's another question that Hannah Spencer has certainly never asked herself: What do dark-haired Pakistani women in her constituency think about her beautiful blonde hair? They'll be jealous, of course. Sexual competition between women hasn't ended with mass migration from the Third World. No, it's increased. But there's also a taboo on the left about discussing the jealousy non-White women feel towards White women. And a taboo about discussing the lust non-White men feel towards White women. The jealousy and the lust have the same roots: the greater sexual attractiveness of White women, thanks both to their more colorful hair and eyes and to their paler skin (which, as Peter Frost has also explained, is another potent sexual marker).

The jealousy and the lust are very harmful to White women. Particularly the lust, because it's expressed as rape and sexual harassment. There's more irony in a video from the election campaign of Hannah Spencer cavorting with uncovered hair behind Mothin Ali, the deputy leader of the Green Party. Ali is a devout Muslim whose wife wears the full-body covering known as the niqab. By his standards – and the standards of thousands of other Muslim men who voted Green in Manchester – Hannah Spencer is an infidel whore ripe for rape. Yes, for White men Spencer is signalling: “Come and woo me.” For non-White men she's signalling: “Come and rape me.” But non-White Mothin won't condemn Spencer's unseemly cavorting and uncovered hair. He doesn't want any premature revelation of a fatal fact: that leftism is a suicide-cult for Whites and a self-service racket for non-Whites. Instead, he announces in the video that “The Green Party is where the party's at!” and chants “For Hannah Spencer!” as ethnicky music wails in the background. Muslims may be in-bred and stupid, but they're quite cunning enough to exploit the narcissism and naivety of White leftists.

Clannishness, corruption and cousin-copulation

Like the Muslim rape-gangs that have been hard at work in Manchester for decades, Muslim in-breeding is another topic that the Green Party refuse to ask questions about. Again, they don't want to hear the answers. Okay, “we're all human,” as Hannah Spencer said, but when one human group conducts cousin-marriage for generations and another human group doesn't, this will result in some interesting differences. Lower average IQ in the cousin-copulators, for example. And higher rates of genetic disease. Higher clannishness and corruption too. But the Green Party are eager to exploit the clannishness of Muslims in Britain, which is why they issued leaflets and videos in Urdu, not English, as they campaigned in Manchester. The Greens are a leftist party, after all, and leftists believe in power, not in principle.

By supporting Mudzone and the mud-flood, the Greens are following the Orwellian path already taken by Labour. The name of the Labour Party has been a lie for decades and the name of the Green Party is rapidly becoming a lie too. Just as the Labour party has abandoned the White working-class it was founded to defend, so the Green Party is abandoning the natural world it was founded to defend. Under their gay Jewish leader Zac Polanski, the Greens are talking much less about Gaia and much more about open borders. Soaring population means soaring pollution, but so what? Power is what matters to leftists, not principle, and Polanski thinks that more non-Whites will be good for his leftism. They'll certainly be bad for British Whites, which is another reason for Polanski to want them. And they'll be bad for both for British gays and for British animals, which is another irony that Hannah Spencer didn't recognize as she pursued the votes of dark-haired and in-bred Pakistani Muslims in Manchester.

Dog-Lovers for Dog-Haters

As you'd expect, Spencer is a firm fan of the LGBTQIA+ community and an ardent animal-lover. In particular, she's a dog-lover. She once campaigned against a greyhound-racing track in Manchester and told one interviewer: "I was saying: 'Look, do you know how badly these dogs are treated?' A lot of people didn't know. That track got closed [in 2020], which felt massive." Greyhound racing is a White sport, but has Spencer ever campaigned against halal slaughter, the cruel Muslim practice of cutting animals' throats without stunning them first? Of course not. Like all mainstream leftists, Spencer is a devout believer in two core dogmas: first, that all humans are the same under the skin; second, that Whites are innately villainous and non-Whites innately virtuous. That's why the left don't challenge non-White misbehavior and crime. Indeed, they both excuse and encourage it. Like countless other Greens, Spencer is a dog-lover and gay-worshipper who works on behalf of dog-haters and gay-whippers. Muslims regard dogs as unclean and homosexuality as an abomination. Blacks mistreat both dogs and gays at higher rates than Whites. After all, cruelty to animals and homophobia are central to many rich and vibrant non-White cultures.

That's yet another taboo topic to the Green Party, which is attracting more and more votes from narcissistic Whites and stupid-but-cunning Muslims. The Whites and Muslims are abandoning the Labour party because of its genuine support for Israel's military massacre-machine and its pretended opposition to Third-World migration. On the so-called right wing of British politics, there's a parallel re-alignment under way as Whites abandon the Conservatives and embrace Reform. The Conservatives richly deserve to be abandoned, but Reform don't deserve to be embraced. It's more and more obvious that Nigel Farage intends to betray White voters just as thoroughly as the Conservatives did. Like blonde Hannah Spencer and her dark-haired Muslim supporters in Manchester, there's a fascinating anthropological – and evolutionary – contrast between one Black candidate for Reform and prospective White voters in Southampton.

Treciaus Chitsika and Traitorous Farage

The Black candidate is called Treciaus Chitsika and is a woman, although that's not obvious either from her name or from her face. Farage and Reform would call her "British," but in fact she's trans-British. That is, she's as genuinely British as a "transwoman" is genuinely female. In other words, she's not British at all. She's from Zimbabwe and looking at her face I thought "Homo erectus." Yes, she reminded me that Blacks interbred with distinct species of humans inside Africa, just as Whites and Asians interbred with other distinct species of humans outside Africa. Blacks have cognitively significant genes that non-Blacks don't. And vice versa. I'm happy to acknowledge that Treciaus Chitsika is human, but she is not human in the same way as Whites are. Accordingly, she does not belong in a White nation like Britain, let alone belong on the ballot here.

By promoting non-Whites like Treciaus Chitsika, Nigel Farage has proved that he is a traitor in the same way as the so-called King and Queen of England, Chuck the Cuck and his wife Camilla. I've already written about the narcissism of leftism, but I haven't mentioned how it takes different forms in Whites and their ethnic pets. The narcissism of White leftists involves demonstrating their universalist virtue by promoting non-Whites; the narcissism of the non-Whites involves accepting that promotion by Whites as no more than their due. You can see both forms of narcissism in this photo of Queen Camilla with Selina Brown, the Black women she chose as "the UK's first National Reading Hero" and presented with "the inaugural Queen's Reading Room Medal":

Camilla and her she-rilla, the “National Reading Hero” Selina Brown
(image from BBC)

The White woman Camilla is looking pleased with herself for promoting a Black woman, while the Black woman Selina is looking pleased with herself for being a Black woman. It's yet another example of how leftism is a suicide-cult for Whites and a self-service racket for non-Whites. We have traitors at the top in the West and removing them will be an essential part of restoring the West.
